QUOTE: And if they resist, then they make war against them.

SOURCE: AUTHOR Thomas More TITLE : Thomas More; Utopia BOOK/VOL/PAGE# (IF APPLICABLE: The Heath Anthology of American Literature/ Volume A/ Page 110

QUOTE: So as marvel you not at the thin population of America, nor at the rudeness and ignorance of the people for you must account your inhabitants of America as a young people, younger a thousand years at the least than the rest of the world, for that there was so much time between the universal flood and their particular inundation.

QUOTE: This is a nation, I should say to Plato, in which there is no sort of traffic, no knowledge of letters, no science of numbers, no name for a magistrate or for political superiority, no custom of servitude, no riches or poverty, no contracts, no successions, no partitions, no occupations but leisure ones, no care for common kinship, no clothes, no agriculture, no metal, no use of wine or wheat.

SOURCE: Michel De Montaigne. Of Cannibals. Vol A. Pgs. 110-111

QUOTE: "They could not imagine a naturalness so pure and simple as we see by experience; nor could they believe that our society could be maintained with so little artifice and human sorder."

SOURCE: Michel De Montaigne. Of Cannibals. Vol A 110

QUOTE: The wilderness masters the colonist.

SOURCE: Frederick Jackson Turner. The Significance of the Frontier in American History. Vol A. Pg. 139

QUOTE: "In short, at the frontier the environment is at first too strong for the man. He must accept the conditions which it furnishes, or perish, and so he fits himself into the Indian clearings and follows the Indian trails. Little by little he transforms the wilderness, but the outcome is not the old Europe... The fact is that here is a new product that is America"

SOURCE: Frederick Jackson Turner "The Significance of the Frontier in American History" From "Cluster: Aesthetics and Criticism—Paradigms of Cultural Encounters" Page 153

QUOTE: The frontier is the line of most rapid and effective Americanization. The wilderness masters the colonist. It finds him a European in dress, industries, tools, modes of travel, and thought. It takes him from the railroad car and puts him in the birch canoe. It strips him of the garments of civilization, and arrays him in the hunting shirt and moccasin.
